

Geo-politics Security Women's Body

地政学、安全保障、女性の身体

November 9 2018 14:00-17:00

Room 135 (Conference Room), Main Building,
Ochanomizu University

Organizer & Facilitator

Ki-young Shin (IGS, Ochanomizu University)

Speakers

Denise M. Horn (Simmons University, US)

Embodying Geopolitics: The Cold War, Fertility Control, and Women's Citizenship in Indonesia

Linda Hasunuma (University of Bridgeport, US)

Mary M McCarthy (Drake University, US)

The Politics of Commemorating the Comfort Women in the United States

Discussants

Keiko Hirano (IGS, Ochanomizu University)

Hisako Motoyama (Ochanomizu University)

Akwi Seo (Fukuoka Women's University)

使用言語：英語
事前申込不要

Denise M. Horn

Chair and Associate Professor of Political Science and International Relations, and Associate Professor of Women's and Gender Studies at Simmons University in Boston, MA, USA. Author of Democratic Governance and Social Entrepreneurship: Civic Participation and the Future of Democracy (Routledge 2013) and Women, Civil Society and the Geopolitics of Democratization (Routledge 2010).

Linda Hasunuma

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science at the University of Bridgeport's School of Public and International Affairs. Research interests in Japan's gender politics and the movements seeking justice for comfort women in the US. Member of the Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation's Network for the Future US-Japan Alliance, cohort II.

Mary M. McCarthy

Associate professor of politics and international relations at Drake University, USA. Editor of the Routledge Handbook of Japanese Foreign Policy. Most recent publication is "Coalition Building and Mobilization: Case Studies of the Comfort Women Memorials in the United States," with Linda C. Hasunuma (Politics, Groups, and Identities, 2018).

